

BOTSWANA DIAMONDS BUSHMAN DESPAIR

The Gana and Gwi 'Bushmen' are being brutally evicted from their ancestral land in Botswana. The authorities have cut off their water, forbidden them to hunt or gather food, and forced them into resettlement camps where despair reigns. The government says this is to 'develop' them – others think it's to make way for diamond mines. You can help save the Gana and Gwi from destruction. Find out more. Support the campaign. Send a donation to 'Survival – Bushman campaign'.

www.survival-international.org

T +44 20 7687 8700

Survival, London, EC1M 7ET, UK

© Survival International Charitable Trust (reg. charity 267444)

Tax receipts will only be issued in the UK.

Survival

for tribal peoples

